12:30	Light Lunch
13:30	Panel II: Sustainable Energy for All The global energy system is not just. At first, billions of people live without access to clean and reliable sources of energy. At second, low income households spend a larger proportion of their income on energy services [than higher income households] hindering opportunities to accumulate the needed wealth to escape from poverty. These two elements of energy poverty subsequently bring about other serious problems such as gender inequity, social injustice and environmental degradation. This panel will explore arguments in favour of justice in energy provision and development.	Moderator: Gemma Arpaia, Asia Responsible, ISCOS-FOCSIV <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Francesco La Camera, Director General Ministry of Environment, Land and Sea Republic of Italy.</li> <li>• Stephan Singer, Chief Adviser on Energy Policy, Climate Action Network (CAN)</li> <li>• Dominic Foster, Head of Government Relations - Catholic Agency for Overseas Development (CAFOD)</li> <li>• Mrs. Ruth Kiwanuka, CEO, Joint Environment and Energy Project (JEEP)</li> </ul>
14:30	Panel III: the role of Institutions, Businesses and Civil Society Action for a just transition requires a common good consensus vision: bold, forward-looking, visionary planning for structural change through: building political consensus, policies, regulations, standards, incentives, public awareness, education, institutional change &amp; strengthening, public participation and corporate engagement, among other actions. This panel will explore the multiple contributions institutions, businesses and civil society can pursue towards a just energy transition.	Moderator: Tabaré A.
